We have launched a great new service on our website – The Broker Centre.

Our brokers will be aware that we have recently been developing an online quotation facility to be used in conjunction with their Plum Underwriting binder and underwriting guide.

The introduction of the Broker Centre is the first stage in a series of initiatives to re-invent our approach to competitiveness, technology and underwriting. We are currently working on new products to further expand our offering; and will be speaking to our brokers about these in the very near future.
